AMUSEMENT OF CLERGYMEN.

Mr. Editor—It was the advice of Sir Thomas Moore to his children, "Let virtue be your food, and amusement your sauce :" but according to some writers, every kind of sauce must be interdicted to the clergy, which puts me in mind of the condition of the domestic chaplain mentioned in the Guardian, who was looked upon as an intruder for stopping to partake of the more luxurious part of an entertainment. Calvin allowed sports even upon the Lord's Day; Alexander Newell, the exemplary Dean of St. Paul's, was a devoted angler ; and Dr. Doddrige confesses his attachment to card playing. But I shall content myself at present with producing a very curious letter on this subject, written in answer to some complaints against him, by that zealous Calvinist, the Reverend Augustus Toplady, who was accustomed to play at cards with Mr. Gurney, the short hand writer. This practice having attracted much notice, and given offence to the more precise professor, drew from Mr. Toplady the following justification, addressed to the late Mr. George Fowler, an eminent stationer in the city.

Broadhembury, Nov. 11, 1773.

Very Dear Sir,—Never apologize to me, I beseech you, for any religious freedoms which you may be friendly enough to take. Without pretending to the apostolical gift of intuitive discernment, I know too much of your heart to be offended at such real instances of your esteem. I must be a monster of pride, were I capable of resenting an intimation which breathe such sincerity of regard, and which you have the happy art of conveying with such delicacy of politeness. Instead of wishing you to intermit your labors of love, I request you to reprove, to rebuke, and to exhort me, as in your opinion, occasion may require. Some individuals of what is called the religious world, are so very pert and impertinent, that I have been obliged to treat them as I would the officiousness of wasps, and give them a gentle flap to keep them at their due distance. But without any shadow of compliment, I have so great and just an idea of the valuable friend to whom I am now writing, that I am desirous, not to repel, but to invite and caress, his truly affectionate admonitions. They even induce me to love him the better, and respect him the more ; nor can he bind me to him by a stronger tie.

As you dear sir, have unbosomed your thoughts, with such transparency and genuine faithfulness, I also in return, will, for once, consider you as my father's counsellor, & open my whole mind to you, on the subject we have in hand, without disguise or reserve.

1. I do not think that honest Martin Luther committed sin, by playing backgammon, for an hour or two after dinner, in order, by unbending his mind, to promote digestion.

2. I cannot blame the holy martyr, Bishop Bidly, for frequently playing at tennis, before he became a prelate ; nor for playing at the more serious game of chess, twice a day after he was made a bishop.

3. As little do I find fault with another of our most exemplary martyrs, the learned and devout Mr. Archdeacon Philpot, who has left it on record, as a brand on the Pelagians of that age, "that they looked on honeste pastyme as a synne," and had the impudence to call him an Antinomian, and a loose moralist, because he now and then relaxed his brow with "huntynge, shootynge, bowlynge, and such lyke."

4. Nor can I set down the pious bishop Latimer for an enemy to holiness of life, on account of his saying that hunting is a good exercise for men of rank, and that shooting is as lawful an amusement for persons of superior class.

5. I have not a whit the worse opinion of the eminent and profound Mr. Thomas Gataker, for the treatise which he professedly wrote to prove the lawfulness of card playing, under due restrictions and limitations.

6. I think good bishop Beveredge was quite innocent in amusing himself with his violin.

7. The seraphic Mr. Hervey is, in my idea, entitled to no manner of censure, for allowing the devout father of "Miss Mitissa and Miss Serena," to attend his daughter, "once or twice, to the theatrical entertainments and public diversions ;" nor yet for allowing him to let the said misses, "learn to dance in order to acquire a genteel air and graceful demeanor."

Observe, that in producing Mr. Hervey's judgment concerning the not absolute unlawfulness of all stage entertainments, and other public diversions, I do not mean to enter a plea for myself. I have seen but three plays, since I took orders, i.e. for these eleven years & a half, and shall probably never see another ; not because I am persuaded of its being sinful, (for I think I might as innocently see Shakespeare's Henry the Fourth acted on the stage, as read the history of that prince by my own fire-side) but because I consider the play house as too public a place of amusement, for a clergyman to frequent. Moreover, I was never once at Vauxhall nor at Ranelagh, for the very same reason & for no other. Neither was I at an assembly, except once ; viz. several years ago, at Weymouth, in mere complaisance to Mrs, Macauley, though we both abstained from touching a card. While there, we only saw and were seen, and chatted with those we knew. But enough of this digression.

8. I cannot unsaint St. Chrysostom, for admiring the comedies of Aristophanus to such a degree, as to read them perpetually, and even to lay them under his pillow when he slept.

9. I do not think it criminal in that good and useful man, Mr. Madan, to indulge himself in horse racing, and in hunting, fishing, and shooting — He himself makes no secret of all this; else I would have omitted to mention it. Now I am not attached to any of these sports. Not to the first, for I utterly dislike it ; not to the second, because I am rather a timid rider ; not to the third, because I have neither time nor patience enough ; nor to the fourth, for I never fired a gun in my life. But shall I, like those in Hudibras, and like too many censorious professors now,

Compound for things I am inclined to.
By blaming what I have no mind to?

God forbid ! let every man judge for himself, and stand or fall to his own master above.

10. Archbishop Williams required but two hours sleep out of the twenty four. On the other hand, bishop Kenn seems to have required twelve ; for he says,

Dull sleep, of sense me to deprive !
I am but half my time alive.

Would it not be very absurd, were we for that reason, to pronounce Williams a holier man than Kenn ?

11. Shall I question the piety of good old Mr. Moses Browne, because he finds a pleasure in angling for trout and eels ? He showed me, when I was last in London, some sheets of the new edition of his 'Eclogues on Fishing.' He is fond of that recreation himself, and as fond of instructing others in it. Is he therefore ungodly ? Or (permit me to ask) is there half so much loss of time at a pool of quadrille, as an angler's hook and line are attended with ?—I must add, Which has least of cruelty in it—the depriving real fishes of life by the most excruciating torture, or the playing for fishes made of ivory or mother of pearl ?

12. I will not sit in judgment on my dear friends, Mr. and Mrs. Flower, for having their amiable daughter taught to play on the harpsichord, to dance, &c. &c. Nor am I angry with the fair inquisitive herself, for being one of the most elegant and accomplished females that ever were entitled to that character.

13. I cannot condemn the vicar of Broadhembury* for relaxing himself now and then among a few select friends with a rubber of six-penny whist, a poole of penny quadrille, or a few rounds of two-penny Pope Joan. To my certain knowledge, the said vicar has been cured of the head-ache by one or other of those games, after spending eight, ten, twelve, and sometimes sixteen hours in his study. Nor will he ask any man's leave for so unbending himself.

1. Because another man's conscience is no rule to his, any more than another person's stature or complexion.

2. Because the word of God, no where, either directly or indirectly, says one syllable, or drops one hint, concerning either the lawfulness or the unlawfulness of amusement by lots. And I would no more add to the commandments of God, or the doctrines of God.

3. Because the Apostle is he who condemns [illegible] the things that he allows : what exactly my case.

4. Because the same Apostle asks, Why is my liberty judged of another man's conscience ? And so say I.

5. Because I do not find myself hurt by this liberty, either in mind, body or estate : Not in mind, for my mind is sensibly relieved by it : Not in body, for my body is sensibly the better for it : Not in estate, for that cannot possibly suffer by it. I neither win nor lose forty shillings per annum.

Doubtless, Mr. Madan, Mr. Browne, and others, have stumbled some weak Christians' many a time, by following and vindicating such unhallowed amusements. And those Christians must, I think, be VERY WEAK indeed, who can stumble at a straw, and break their shins against a barley-corn !

A very worthy female intimated to me last spring in London, that I 'offended some weak brethren and made them stumble, by allowing myself to play at cards.' As this was very seriously said, I was going to make a serious answer. But my gravity suffered more than a stumble, for it actually fell, on surveying the head-dress of the fair expostulatress I could not help asking, with a smile—'And suppose a weak sister was to stumble at your elegant pyramid of hair, wire, and crinkt ribbons, would you therefore reduce your attire to the taste of that weak sister ?' The good woman honestly replied, in some disconcertment, 'no, indeed.'—'Then give liberty as well as take it.' I could not help thinking of the lady and the patch, mentioned in the 57th number of the Spectator.

And so much, my dear friend, for the grand subject of your letter. I hope our correspondence will in future turn on topics more edifying and improving. Surely they who are led by divine grace to experience the best things of God's spiritual kingdom, should learn to look on things indifferent with the indifference they deserve.

I have hardly left myself room to assure you of the regard with which I am, &c. A. TOPLADY.

Mr. Toplady was at this time the resident incumbent of that parish in Devonshire.

HONEY DEW,

Has been discovered upon the leaves of the Elm, and other vegetable verdure, in this vicinity. In the evening and morning, it is found most plentifully, and is even perceived dropping from the leaves of the trees. It is of a viscid and mucilaginous consistence, is probably soluble in water, and has a sweet taste not dissimilar to honey. We do not know how this phenomenon is explained, but are inclined to be of opinion, that the honey dew is a vegetable exhalation, probably never discoverable, except in the summer months, when the earth is covered with the heaviest and the richest verdure. Its appearance, therefore, at this time, is undoubtedly owing to the unusually rapid progress of vegetation. The saccharine juice of vegetables may, from its redundance, exhale or unite with the atmosphere, and afterwards distill upon the same vegetable. Our land, therefore, literally "flows with honey."

A HABIT OF SWEARING.

A person asked the minister of his parish what was meant by, 'He was clothed with curses as with a garment.' 'My good friend,' said the minister, 'it means that he had got a habit of swearing.'

CURIOUS PUNISHMENTS.

The following collection of a few of the many curious punishments, inflicted for various offences, is copied from the old records of Massachusetts, between the years 1630 and 1650.

"Sir Richard Saltonstal, fined 4 bushels of malt for his absence from the court.

"Josias Plastow shall, for stealing 4 baskets of corn from the Indians, return 8 baskets again, be fined 5*l.* and hereafter to be called Josias, and not Mr. as he used to be.

"Joyce Bradwick shall give unto Alexander Becks 20 shillings for promising him marriage, without her friends' consent, and now refusing to perform the same.

"Thomas Peter, for suspicion of slander, idleness and stubbornness, is to be severely whipt and kept in hold.

"Richard Turner, for being notoriously drunk, was fined 2*l.*

"Edward Palmer, for his extortion, taking 33*s.* 7*d.* for the plank and work of Boston stocks, is fined 5*l.* and censured to be set an hour in the stocks."

"John White is bound 10*l.* to be of good behaviour, and not to come into the company of his neighbor Thomas Bull's wife alone."

sal, a[illegible] readers, t[illegible] charge to a Gra[illegible] inform them that [illegible] William Jones, is [illegible] words, that it is the offs[illegible] dignity and virtue. Our legislato[illegible] judges, and our lawyers, will find their account in impressing every syllable of it upon their hearts.

"It is a truth coeval with human nature, that power, in the hands of man, will sometimes be abused, and therefore ought always to be subject to check and restraint ; but restriction by no means implies blame : we all know how many precautions have been taken at various times to render judges and jurors impartial, and to place them above dependence ; yet none of us conceive ourselves disgraced by such precautions. THE MOTIVES TO DETAIN A CREATURE LIKE MAN IN THE PATH OF DUTY, CANNOT BE TOO POWERFUL OR TOO NUMEROUS.

"The object of the present court of judicature, in a few words, is this... that in every age the British subjects resident in India, shall be protected, yet governed by British laws ; and that the natives of these provinces shall be indulged in their own customs or prejudices, civil as well as religious, without molestation ; and although so much has been said by those who are of a different opinion, I see no reason why these ends may not be attained without injury to the regular collection of the revenue, or the political fabric of the executive government.

"It is of consequence that the true character and office of a judge appointed to administer the laws should be clearly and correctly understood : such an explanation may appear unnecessary, but the fact is, it is often misconceived, and requires the experience of professional practice to understand it fully.

"The use of law, as a science, is to prevent mere discretionary power, under the color of equity ; and it is the duty of a judge, to pronounce his decisions, not simply according to his own opinion of justice and right, but according to prescribed rules : it is to be hoped that his own reason will generally approve these rules ; but it is the judgment of the law, not his own, which he delivers.

"Were judges to decide by their bare opinions of right and wrong, these must occasionally be warped by prejudice, interest or caprice, and an English court of justice, which, as it is now established, is the most useful and salutary of all institutions, would degenerate into the intolerable slavery of an arbitrary tribunal.

"For it was observed by the late excellent Lord Camden—"The discretion of a judge is the law of tyrants ; it is always unknown ; it is different in different men ; it is casual, and depends upon constitution, temper and passion ; in the best of us, it is oftentimes caprice, in the worst, vice and folly."

"Let us be satisfied, gentlemen, with law, which all who choose, may understand, and not call for equity in its popular sense, which is uncertain.

"The end of criminal law, a most important branch of the great juridical system, is to prevent crimes by punishment, so that the pain of it, as a fine writer expresses himself, may be inflicted on few, but the dread of it extended to all.

"In the administration of penal justice, a severe burthen is removed from our minds, by the assistance of juries ; and it is my ardent wish that the court had the same relief in civil, especially commercial causes, for the decision of which there cannot be a nobler tribunal than a jury of experienced men, assisted by the learning of a judge.

"These are my sentiments ; and I express them, not because they may be popular, but because I sincerely and unreservedly entertain them ; for I aspire to no popularity—I seek no praise, but that which is due to a strict and conscientious discharge of my duty ; and it is my fixed resolution to pronounce on all occasions what I conceive to be law, than which no individual must suppose himself to be wiser."

"As far as my knowledge extends, crops were never known to be so inferior, and I feel no hesitation in stating that the united crops on Edisto will not average 75 lbs. of cotton per acre ; nor will this appear surprising after the tremendous and unexampled rains we daily experience. From the National Intelligencer.

The following comparative statement shews the result of the election recently held in the state of Tennessee, for the Representatives to the Fifteenth Congress :—

In the late Congress	Now elected
James B. Reynolds	Geo. W. L. Marr
Samuel Powell	John Rhea
Isaac Thomas	Francis Jones
B. H. Henderson	Samuel Hogg
Newton Cannon	Thomas Claiborne
W. G. Blount	W. G. Blount.

In the Nashville district there were no fewer than 9289 votes given in ; of which Mr. Claiborne received 4387, Mr. Cannon 2669, & Mr. Robert Weakley 2233.

The elections to the fifteenth congress are now completed in every state in the Union, except in one or two districts of Massachusetts, where there have been several unsuccessful attempts to make a choice. The changes are more numerous than at any preceding election ; for it is believed that two thirds of the members of the present house of representatives have never sat in congress before. Of the old members not returned, it is believed nearly one half declined a re-election.—The defeat of the remainder is in a degree attributable to the Compensation Law, but not as generally as some have supposed. Several of the warmest opponents of that law have lost their seats by large majorities. ibid.

"The weather is really as cold, rainy and unsettled, and has been in all this month, as we ever knew it at this season of the year ; it is, therefore, quite nonsense to talk of the crops being as early as in a fine season : crops that one month ago were allowed by every one to be from 14 to 20 days behind an average year, and still this wonderful change effected by 6 days of hot weather, and perhaps 6 days more of warm and fine weather. The misfortune is, that in the grain grade the fluctuations that occur in it are founded on no accurate information. Whether in a rising or falling market nothing exists for your guidance but the most uncertain surmise ; the old stock at harvest time, the quantity produced by a crop, the amount of a year's consumption, the quantity of ground laid out one year more or less than another, the actual condition of the crops, upon no circumstance, in short, that should serve as a data for reasoning, is any satisfactory knowledge possessed. Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The T... res or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; ...hing in the nose, and about the seat; ...vulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes

Important to dealers in grain and flour.

The editors of the Gazette have been favored with the following important extract of a letter from Messrs. Hughes, Duncan & Co. dated Liverpool, July 19:

"The weather is really as cold, rainy and unsettled, and has been in all this month, as we ever knew it at this season of the year; it is, therefore, quite nonesense to talk of the crops being as early as in a fine season: crops that one month ago were allowed by every one to be from 14 to 20 days behind an average year, and still this wonderful change effected by 6 days of hot weather, and perhaps 6 days more of warm and fine weather. Whether in a rising or falling market nothing exists for your guidance but the most uncertain surmise; the old stock at harvest time, the quantity produced by a crop, the amount of a year's consumption, the quantity of ground laid out one year more or less than another, the actual condition of the crops, upon no circumstance, short, that should serve as a data for reasoning, is any satisfactory knowledge possessed. The market moves upwards downwards under impulses that appear to seize every one, but that nobody understands. At present there is an almost universal feeling that resembles a panic, which is employing all the barns and granaries in the kingdom, and with the speculation in precipitation is every one hurrying their contents into the markets. At such a period there must be scarcity, and whilst it lasts prices must advance. But will it last? We are convinced nobody can tell New wheat, in quantity, cannot reasonably be expected to be fit for the mill before the middle of November; two months consumption, therefore, must be got out of the old stock, and if there is not more, there is actually a great searcity; but if there is more, it is computed that it amounts to millions of quarters of wheat, dispersed all over the country, so that no human eye can take it in and judge of it, and still less is it possible to judge of smaller quantities, should the stock be small. Supposing, however, that the stock is only just large enough to last till new wheat can be used, does this furnish a reasonable ground to expect that prices will advance again before the harvest? It would do if the thing was known, but as it cannot be known, no actual want can be felt; and the continued prospect throughout the harvest of abundant crops, will make every one expect better prices before than after it. That the present stock is less assisted as it will be by imports thus supposed we cannot believe, and it may be greater. We conclude therefore, that in the event of continued fine weather, no blights, no mildews, nothing to spread alarm about the present crops, the prices will not improve, but grow worse and worse. On the other hand, we are satisfied that the crops are not so forward as usual, the weather is cold and rainy, and it is generally rainy for the next 4 or 5 weeks; if it proves so this year, a feeling opposite to that now prevailing may become general, and the prices may start up again to become as high or higher before harvest than they have been in the course of the year. The worst part of the problem is that we cannot tell whether it will be fair or bad weather, and without it, whether right or wrong, we can neither deserve praise nor blame for what we may or may not have done; yet, with a very anxious desire to do the best we can for our friends, we are afraid that we shall be deceived."

Extract of a letter from New-Orleans, dated August 1, received in Boston.

"Of flour, nearly 30,000 bbls. arrived during the last month, and there being no demand for exportation, prices have declined to 5 a 6¼ dollars, and dull. Tobacco is also abundant, and without demand—last sales 5½ a 6 cents. Should the quantity anticipated reach market this season we may expect a still further reduction in price. Pork 16 a $18; lard 18 cents; whiskey 80, (sales;) corn and wheat plenty, and without buyers or price; cotton 23 a 30 cents, according to quality—the quantity in first hands. I am informed, does not exceed 1.200 bales, and a probability of its declining unless the new crop is again injured by rot, or some other serious injury happens to it. At present it is reported to be highly promising, and planters anticipate an abundant harvest of both this article and sugar.

"The most accurate estimate of the exports of the last crop of cotton, is as follows:

To ports in G. Britain,	33,000 bales
Do. do. France,	17,000
Other European ports,	2,000
Atlantic ports,	6 000
Remaining,	4,000
Total,	62,000 bales

"The quantity of tobacco already inspected is nearly 23.000 hhds. The last vessel which remained at the Levee for freight was yesterday taken up for New-York, upon the following terms: tobacco at $13 per hhd. cotton 2 cents lb. and flour at $1½ bbl. European freights have not advanced in the same proportion.—Last rates to France 2½ a 3 cents for cotton, and $1¼ a 1½ per lb. for tobacco, and flour 2 25 per bbl.

"The market for the sale of imports is exceedingly dull, at reduced prices.

"The number of boats daily arriving from the western country is beyond all precedent at this season of the year.

"Prices.—Sperm, candles 62½ cents, a good supply in market; cod oil, none in market, and would sell well; sugar $12, dull. Fine German goods are in demand. Exchange on Boston par.

From the Boston Palladium, of Sept. 8.

We have been favored with Calcutta papers to the 29th of March inclusive, received by the Argonaut.

The weather which has lately prevailed in Calcutta has given the season more the appearance of July, than March. Torrents of rain have fallen. The last 4 or 5 days have been free from showers, and the air has become hot and dry.

The gallant army before Hatras, has broken up, and the troops returning to their several cantonments. Since the fall of that place several smaller fortifications belonging to the Jagheer, have been destroyed.

Accounts from Java, give no very prominent report of the proceedings or success of the Dutch government in that quarter. The vexatious delays, and uncommodating conduct of the functionaries commissioned to effect the transfer of the island and dependencies to the king of the Netherlands, are alluded to with the utmost dissatisfaction.

MARCH 29.

Since our last further accounts from Batavia have reached the Presidency. The most material points of negociation between the English and Dutch authorities had been decided, but the bill of exchange had not been delivered by the latter.

Report states that an attempt to re-establish the feudal system at Java, by compelling the people to work in the roads and in clearing the drains, has led to an insurrection, which has been followed by much bloodshed. The whole eastern division of the Dutch army marched against the disaffected, and having concerted a plan of operation to cut off their retreat, they attacked them, and after a short resistance 160 are said to have been killed, and 500 taken prisoners, who were immediately marched to prison at Indramayo. The place of confinement was so limited that they hardly had room to breathe.—They endeavored to procure fresh air by removing the tiles, and being resisted, they rose upon their guard, defenceless as they were, and about two hundred of them were bayoneted on the spot. The rest were then secured, and put into boats, where some died of their wounds and a great many jumped overboard.

H. M. 65th regt. has left town, to embark for St. Helena.

It is again in contemplation to reduce the cultivation of indigo in consequence of the disastrous accounts from home; it is intended, we understand, to store a part of next year's produce, and to limit the manufacture of future years, to 50 and 60,000 maunds.

Our letters from Trincomale mention that the heat was beginning to be severely felt, and sickness was in consequence on the increase.—180 patients were in the hospital.

The Ceylon paper informs that vaccination was rapidly increasing among the native population of the island. The number of persons inoculated last year was 20.000.

A ship under English colors, from Pulo Penang, last from Malay coast, bound to Meka, with pilgrims, has been taken by the pirates, near Pigeon island, and all on board murdered, except three of the crew, who made their escape.

The Bacchus, sloop of war, has sailed from Bombay, on a cruise in the gulph of Persia, to look after the pirates which have lately again infested these seas. A Pattermar armed vessel belonging to the hon. com. has been cut off by them.

BOMBAY, March 1.

We regret to state that accounts have been received here, that the Pindarees have again descended below the Chauts, in three or four distinct bodies, and have committed considerable depredations—several extensive villages in the district of Sevendroog have been completely sacked by these marauders. A body of about 500 of them appeared near the village of Dasgoum, after having plundered Mhar, February 22.

PENANG, Feb. 8.

It may afford our readers some gratification to learn, that in the course of the war waged during the last month, against the Canine race, the number of the enemy slain, amounted to one thousand five hundred and seventy seven.

The Am ship Bainbridge, from Philadelphia, arrived at Penang about March 1.

It has been officially published in India, that according to an act of the British Parliament, vessels built and owned in the U. S., (and prize vessels,) may clear out from any port of Great Britain or Ireland for Calcutta, Madrass, Bombay, and Prince of Wales, land with any goods, wares or merchandize, which may be legally exported to the said settlements in British built vessels, subject to the like regulations, &c. to pay the same duties as the vessels of the most favoured European nation.

Extract of letters, dated Bordeaux, 28th of June.

"A sudden and very extensive demand for cotton has sprung up, and all that offers is eagerly bought. Large sales are making in upland and New-Orleans, at our quotations, and the probability is in favor of a rise. Very little rice is left in the market; the last sale was 50l per 1001bs.

"The demand for coffee continues very great indeed, and immense sales are making at advanced prices. Notwithstanding the arrivals of sugar, the prices look up. Havanas are scarce and much demanded.

"The enquiry for Cocoa is regular. Hides having not yet been affected by the news from the Brazils, but we look for an early demand."

Same date—"We think it necessary to inform you that brandy has again risen, and is now steady at 550f. per 50 velts common proof.—The rice is more attributed to the great scarcity of that liquor than to the demand for it.—Very little good brandy is now to be found here, and no reduction of price can be expected for about a month to come. The vines are now in blossom, and the weather very favorable; if it continues so, we may expect a good vintage, and consequently a considerable fall in the price of brandy towards the approach of vintage. Louisiana cottons are from 245f to 260 per 50 killograms. Uplands preferable in square bales, from 225 to 235 per quality.—There is every appearance of a continuance of these prices and of a further rise. Rice has been considerable, and is now without demand."

Our correspondent Mr. Topliff, conveys the arrival at Boston of the ship Saratoga, from Pernambuco, which place she left on the 2nd July. At that date the royal government was in quiet possession of the province. The new governor had arrived from Rio Janeiro with 4,000 troops. Most of the leaders of the insurrection had been executed.

Ar, ship Georgiana, Chamberlain, 59 ds. from Liverpool. Spoke on Wednesday last, Cape Henry bearing W. N. W. distant 70 miles, schr Mechanic, Ray, 51 days from Trinidad de Cuba, bound to New York.

The Georgiana brought in captain Joseph Noble and crew, of the sloop Juno, of Salem, which vessel she fell in with in a sinking condition, on the 23d ultimo.—Capt. Noblet states that he sailed from Salem on the 5th of August, bound for Martinique: nothing worth noticing occurred until the 10th, when it came on to blow a gale from the southward, which made the sloop labor heavily, and caused her to spring a leak. Capt. N however, kept on his voyage, though the weather still continued extremely boisterous, and the leak encreasing so that it was with difficulty she could be kept free. On the 17th, being in about the lat. of 34, and long. 54, expecting every hour that the sloop would go down, capt. N. tacked ship, with a view to make the nearest port, or of falling in with some vessel; and on the 23d, was so fortunate as to fall in with the Georgiana, which vessel kept by the Juno until the next morning, when capt. Noble and all hands abandoned her, after taking out a small part of her cargo, being all the Georgiana could take on board.

This farm lies in the centre of an excellant neighborhood—is handsomely situated—abundantly watered, and has upon it an ample proportion of wood. The soil is naturally strong, and a considerable portion of it has for some years past, been cultivated according to the most approved rules of modern husbandry—Possession will be given on the first day of January next. Fauquier Land for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale his farm, called "CULLINS," situated in the county of Fauquier, on Kettle Run, and adjoining the lands of Messrs. Samuel Weaver, Jacob Weaver, and others, 7 miles from Fauquier Court House, 33 from Alexandria, and 8 from the Buckland Mills, containing about 400 acres; a considerable portion of which is now in very heavy timber, the balance cleared and in cultivation, including about 80 acres of the first quality bottom land, which, with a small portion of labor, might be made to produce a large quantity of hay. This land lies well, and is in a good neighborhood, and finely watered, Kettle Run passing thro' the farm. To a person disposed to purchase land for the purpose of cultivating and improving it himself, the above offers great advantages, as the plaster Paris & clover acts on no land more efficaciously than on this.

Also, one other farm, lying immediately adjoining, containing the like number of 400 acres; about one half of which has been cleared, the balance well set in timber.

The above farms will be sold together or separately, as may suit purchasers.—For terms, which will be liberal, apply to the subscriber, residing near the premises.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, particularly in New-York Philadelphia Baltimore Petersburg Richmond Norfolk Edenton Wilmington Charleston and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons in each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has under Providence preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation of various dangerous complaints arising from worms and from obstructions or foulness in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The large or large round worm; the Ascides or small maw-worm; the Cucumina or short flat white worm; lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. It is often many yards long and is full joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted stomach, itching in the nose, and about the anus, convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregularity of appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of children—a dreadful disease which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is like the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for rheumatisms gout palsy sprains and bruises white swellings old strains and relaxations numbness and weakness of the joints pains of the side head ache swelled limbs frozen limbs and every similar complaint. It prevents chilblains or chopped hands and the ill effects of getting wet or damp in the feet.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionables throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent mineral the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin freckles pimples inflamatory redness scurfs tetters ringworms sunburns prickly heat &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural insensible perspiration which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Damask Lip Salve—Restorative Powder for the teeth and gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.
